At this time, with all the information on hand, given the plan outlined in the Bond Election Report, the Board of Directors for the District does not anticipate an increase to the total District tax rate as a result of bond issuance for water, sewer, & drainage, or park & recreational projects.

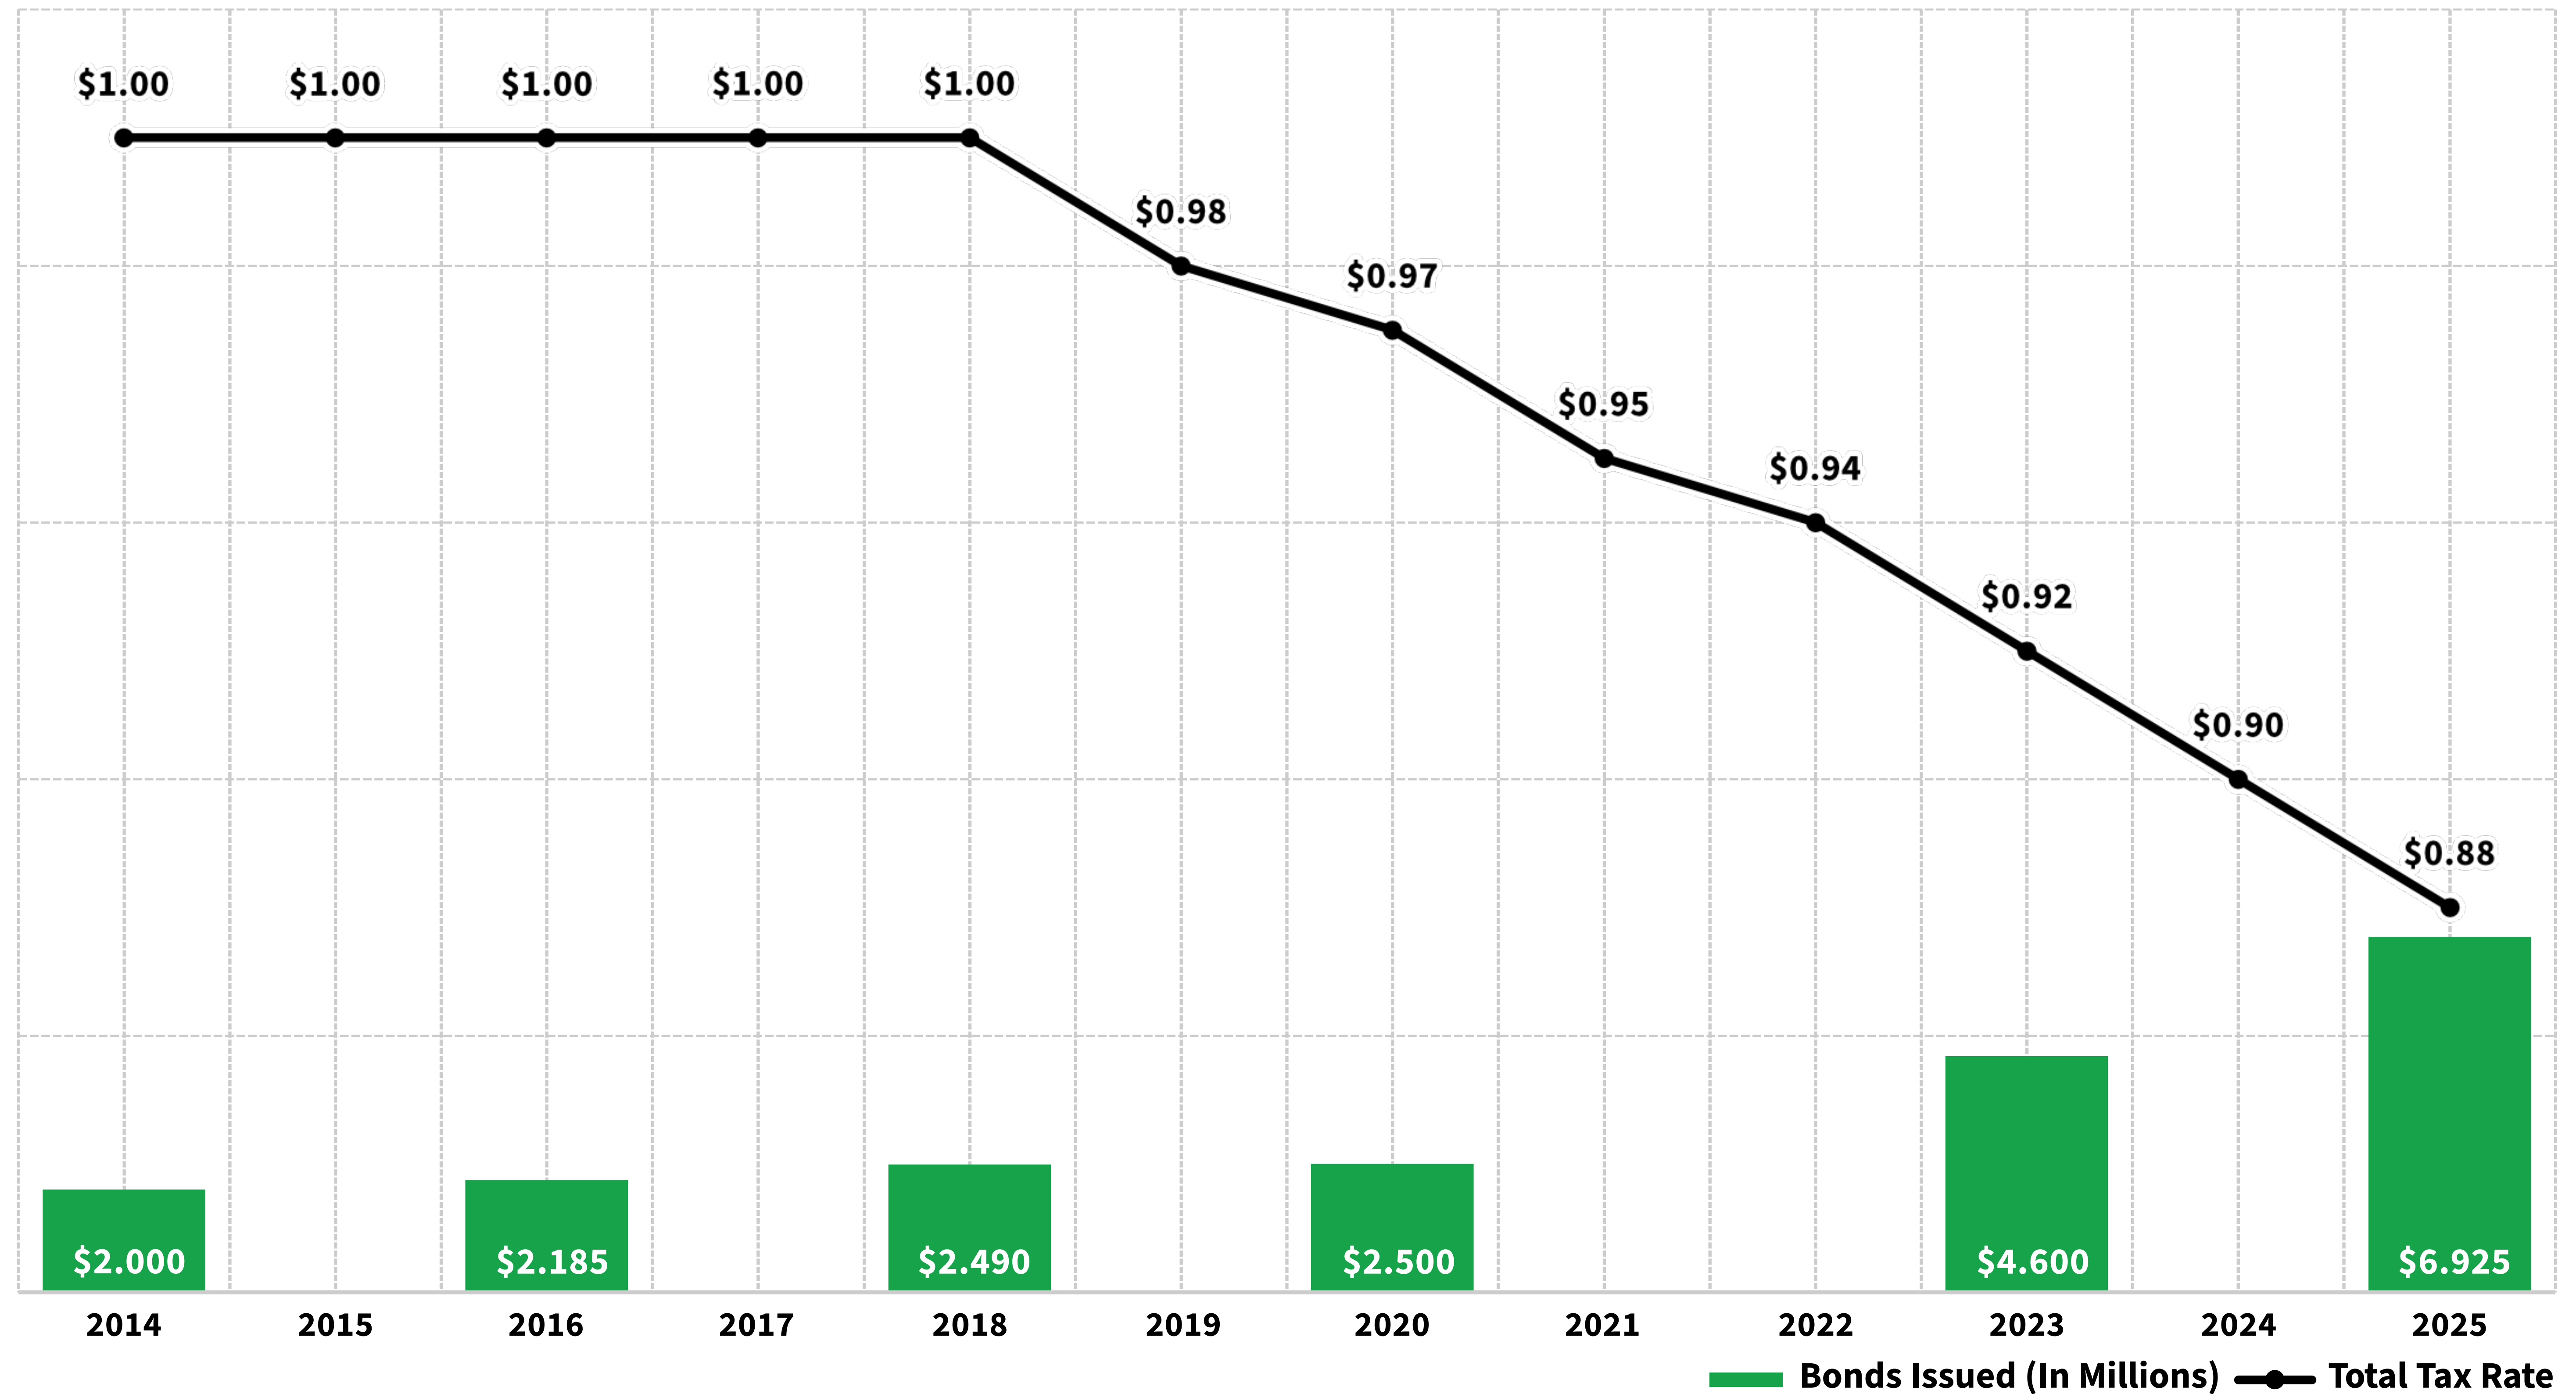

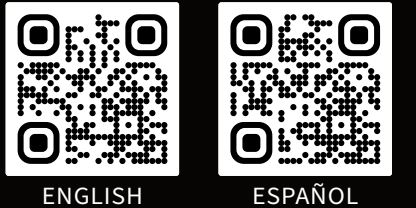

What will the WS&D bond authorization be used for?

The Bond Election Report submitted by the District engineer identifies the projects the Board anticipates will be necessary over the next 10 years to expand or grow the District's water, sanitary sewer, and drainage infrastructure, which will eventually be owned and operated by Texas City, as well as parks and recreational facilities, which will be owned by the District.
